DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-3, 5-7, 9-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mulcahy in view of Horiuchi ('338). The patent to Mulcahy (figs. 1, 2, 5, 7) teaches structure substantially as claimed including main body panels (18, 20) middle panel (19), end panels (17, 21) end flaps (16, 27, 14, 25, 13, 26, 11, 22) the only difference being that both the end panels do not include end flaps. However, the patent to Horiuchi (fig. 6) teaches the use of providing end flaps for both end panels to be old. It would have been obvious and well within the level of ordinary skill in the art to modify the structure of Mulcahy to include end flaps at both end panels, as taught by Horiuchi since such structure are conventional alternative structures used in the same intended purpose, thereby providing structure as claimed. The use of different dimensions is a matter of desirability of how much reinforcement is needed which would have been obvious and well within the level of ordinary skill in the art since such would have produced reasonably predictable results.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The references to Strauss, Hemann, Oravez, Abrams, Collins, Grati, Adams Woods et al, Phares et al, Modesti, Horiuchi ('434) teach structure similar to applicant's.
